MAYSVILLE BOY IS WOUNDED IN ACTION IN FRANCE

Dowell Caudill, Who Joined Kentucky
National Guards Here Falls on French Battlefield.

Mr. Darrell Caudill, of the West end of the city, was advised by the war department yesterday afternoon that his son, Dowell Caudill, had been wounded in action in France.

Young Caudill volunteered for service with the Kentucky National guards when a recruiting party consisting of the First Regiment Band came to Maysville for a few days and camped on the Courthouse campus.
He together with a number of young men who were then employed in the Maysville Cotton Mills offered their services and were accepted.

This company of National Guardsmen were among the first to arrive in France behind General Pershing's first contingent and since he has been in Europe his parents have heard from him several times.

The extent or nature of the wound received by young Caudill is not known. The information received yesterday by his father is exactly like all form telegrams sent to parents
when their sons are wounded.

Young Caudill has not been posted in any of the army casualty lists as yet made public by the war department but will likely appear in today's list as it is usually the custom of the war department to advise the parents
a few days before announcing the names in the public casualty list.

C. & O. EMPLOYEES GET BACK PAY

Local employees of the C. & O. railroad company yesterday received their first checks for the back pay ordered by the government several months ago. This back pay will come in quite handy just now and will serve in a measure to solve the problem of the high cost of living. Other checks for back pay are expected at an early date.

Mrs. S. I. Johnson, of Elberton, Ga.,

and accompanied by her niece, Miss

EXAMINATION OF YOUTHS BEGINS NEXT THURSDAY

Young Men Will Today Receive Notices to Appear For Physical Examination on Thursday and Friday.

The Mason County Exemption
Board meeting at their headquarters
in the Government building last night
issued notices to all of the young men who became twenty-one years of age
during the past year and who registered at the last registration, ordering them to appear before the board this week for their physical examination.

There are approximately one hundred and forty men in this squad and they have been divided in two parts.
Seventy men have been ordered to report on Thursday, August 1, and the other seventy are ordered to report on Friday, August 2.

Dr. J. H. Hutchins, physical examiner on the local board, will be assisted in these examinations by Mr. Lovel Samuels, medical student and the lay members of the Exemption Board. It is expected that the board will have no trouble at all in getting through with the examinations in good time. It might have been possible for the board to have examined the entire squad in one day but they chose to take their time about the matter and do it very thoroughly.

The local board is expecting a very large call during the first part of the month of August and they are making preparations for this call. It is reported that both the young men who recently registered and the men who have been re-classified from deferred classes to Class One may be called upon to entrain for camp during the month of August.

BRACKEN COUNTY SUIT IS ARGUED HERE

Circuit Judge C. D. Newell yesterday afternoon heard arguments by Senator W. A. Byron, Augusta, Hon.
M. Harget, Brooksville, and Hon. A.
D. Cole, this city, in the case of Rice vs. Rice, which is a suit to set aside a deed in the Bracken Circuit Court.
The arguments were heard in the rear office at the Circuit Clerk's office and Judge Newell took the case under advisement.

ALLIES CONTINUE GAINING GROUND AT MOST POINTS

German Crown Prince Brings Two of Best Divisions to Oppose Americans — Much Hand-to-Hand
Fighting in Villages.

With the American Army on the Aisne-Marne Front, July 29 — The American troops tonight still held the apex of their advance, won a struggle with the Germans in which the opposing lines moved forward and backward time and again. Gergy, on the north bank of the Ourcq, changing hands six times.

The Crown Prince of Germany and his generals paid the Americans a great compliment in bringing up against them two of their best divisions, the Fourth guards and Bavarians. They had been in reserve, presumably for the operation. They had been delayed and reached the army
north of the Marne Saturday night.
They moved through the retreating main body yesterday and came into action early today. They did not replace any of the German troops already in the line, but served as reinforcements.

In the repeated changes in position both sides employed all the tactics of modern warfare. After artillery preparation direct advances sometimes were made; at other times enveloping movements were tried. With the Americans there operated a few light French armored motor cars which did brilliant work in rushing the line, at times their guns replying point blank to those of the Germans.

Scores of times the khaki and the gray clad men met in the streets of the little towns and on the slopes of the river in hand-to-hand encounters.

The bayonet was used, but the Americans effectively used their pistols as well. There was much fighting actually in the water, where the Germans attempted to rush their antagonists to the south bank of the stream. There were times when blood tinted and muddied stream gave evidence of the violence of the conflict.
There were many deaths as a result of the slightly wounded men being drowned.

It was late in the afternoon when Gergy for the sixth time was in the possession of the Americans. At the same time it was reported that every other position held by the Americans
Sunday night had been retaken.

From other parts of the long line
from Soissons around to Rheims come reports of the allied lines everywhere
holding and at some points advancing.

H. C. ALBERT DIES AT ATLANTIC CITY

Prominent Atlantic City Druggist, Former Maysville Man Dies at His Home in the East.

Word was received here yesterday
of the death in Atlantic City of Mr. H.
C. Albert, prominent druggist of that city on Friday, July 19th. Funeral was held and burial was made at Atlantic City on Sunday, July 21st.

Mr. Albert was the youngest son of the late R. Albert, prominent local business man, and was engaged in the drug business at Atlantic City with his brother-in-law, Mr. George Cox, also a former Maysville man.

It was reported in Maysville a week ago that Mr. Albert had died but efforts of newspaper men to get the report confirmed were unavailing until yesterday when it was learned definitely that the report had been true.

BOOTLEGGING ON HORD'S HILL IS UNEARTHED

Police Learn That Liquor Is Being Sold in Negro Settlements and Warrants Are Issued—Jesse
Lewis Is Charged.

Warrants were issued in Police Court yesterday afternoon against Jesse Lewis, colored, charging him with bootlegging and against William Coryell, colored, charging him with disorderly conduct. The issuance of these warrants grew out of the arrest of Bess Haley, colored, late Sunday afternoon.

When the Haley woman was brought out of jail yesterday afternoon for a hearing, Chief Ort took her into his office and gave her a thorough grilling to learn from her where she had secured the liquor with which she became drunk. After some little time the Chief finally secured from the woman a confession that she had procured the liquor from Jesse Lewis.

Following up this tip Chief Ort carried out the case until he learned that Lewis is one of the men responsible for the extensive use of liquor in the Hord's Hill neighborhood. For some time the officers have known that some one was illegally dealing in liquor on Hord's Hill but it has been no little job to run the case to the ground and find out the guilty party.
Just how many have been dealing in liquor in this Negro settlement the officers do not yet know but they have for some time known that large quantities of "booze" have been brought down from Manchester and have been brought in from Cincinnati and Lexington.

The William Coryell warrant also grew out of this investigation and it is understood that Coryell knows something about the liquor dealing that has been going on in the Hord's
Hill neighborhood.

This is the first bootlegging case to develop in Maysville since the new state anti-shipping law went into effect and its developments will be watched with much interest.

For many weeks the situation here has been very clear and there has been very little drinking or disorder but during the past few weeks the officers have realized that liquor was being handled somewhere in the city and this arrest it is thought solves the problem.

All three will be given hearings in Police Court this afternoon.

MONDAY IS TO BE FIRST LIGHT- LESS NIGHT

The first "lightless" night, under the new regulations issued by the Fuel administration, will be observed in Maysville Monday night. Under the new orders there are two lightless nights a week—on Mondays and Tuesdays. It will be necessary not only to darken signs, advertisements and other illumination on the outside of buildings, but under the new regulations it also will be necessary to put out all lights in show windows.
Under the old rules on lightless nights it was permitted to keep the show windows illumination. All lights whether gas, electric or coal oil, are included in the illuminations that must be extinguished on the "lightless" nights.

AUSTIN BOYS ARE PICTURED

In last night's edition of the Cincinnati Times-Star the pictures of the three sons of Mr. James Austin, of Cincinnati, who are all now serving their country in France, appeared.
The young men have many relatives
in Maysville.

GERMANS BREAK RELATIONS WITH OTTOMAN EMPIRE

Turks Refuse to Submit Longer to Yoke of the Germans — Allies
Helped in Military Way
By Severance.

London, July 29—"The diplomatic relation between Germany and Turkey have been severed, according to direct information from Constantinople."
This announcement is made by the Copenhagen correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph.

The excitement against Germany,
the advances further say, has been growing, particularly after last week's events. The Germans recently demanded the cruiser Hamidieh, the only large ship then in possession of Turkey, as compensation for the Breslau, the former German cruiser which was destroyed in the Dardanelles while under the Turkish flag. Despite Turkey's protest the Hamidieh has departed for Sebastopol with the German flag flying.

Washington, July 29—"While no official notice of the breach of relations" between Turkey and Germany—or rather the Central Powers, for without doubt Austria is involved with Germany in the dispute with the Ottoman government—has reached Washington officials expressed little surprise tonight at the Copenhagen dispatch received from London saying that Germany and Turkey had severed relations.

Following the conclusion of the peace treaty with Rumania at Jassy, both Turkey and Bulgaria laid claims to much of the territory which Rumania had been forced to cede to her enemies.

Belief in Turkey that favoritism
was being shown Bulgaria by Germany in the negotiations according to recent dispatches received here, caused a growth of anti-German feeling in Constantinople.

A shortage of food, weariness of the war and dissatisfaction of the young Turk party, because of its submission to German control recently found expression in Constantinople in food riots and in munitions uprisings
which have been sternly suppressed
by the military authorities.

field, Mo., passed through the city yesterday on her way to visit relatives at

HUGH EVERETT BOLANDER

When men have been called upon to show their mettle in all times, the man from Mason county has been found in the fore front of the conflict. In the history of all wars the names of men from Mason county have been written in large letters. Since the days of Daniel Boone and Simon Kenton who first entered this wilderness, the sons of old Masof have given good accounts of themselves at all times.

In the present great conflict our men have gloriously upheld the records of their illustrious forefathers.

Leslie Arthur first brought honor to Mason county by making the supreme sacrifice on the blood soaked soil of France. James Kellum, next gave his life that the world may be safe for Democracy, dying from wounds inflicted by the brutal Hun.

Our colored people have also been honored in that one of their boys has breathed his last in a French base hospital and the name of Thomas Batis too will go down in the history of our country as one of our heroes.

It has just become known in the United States that Hugh Everett Bolander has brought honor to his native state and county by deeds of valor and that the French government in recognition of his great service to the free people of the world has conferred upon him the Croix De Guerre. Everett Bolander is the first Mason county man to be so honored and the folks back home are proud of him. He is now reported as missing in action since late June and if he shall have died for his country it is well to know that before his death he felt the thrill of a hero who was appreciated and honored by the French people. If he lives, it is to be hoped that he may escape this great conflict and return to us of Mason county that we may pay honor to him here at home.

The name of Hugh Everett Bolander will live forever in Mason county.

CAPTIVE AMERICANS

It is gratifying to learn from Teutonic sources that American prisoners in Germany are much more discreet than are the German prisoners taken by Pershing and our Allies. It is reported through Switzerland that Gen. Ludendorff has issued orders complaining of the amount of military information the Allies get from German prisoners and the paucity of information acquired from Allied prisoners. He is amazed that the Allies can learn so much from German prisoners and from note-books or letters found on the German dead. He appeals to his soldiers not to imperil hundreds of lives by ready talk when they are captured, forgetting that the persistent Prussian lie that the Allies murder all their prisoners has the boomerang effect of loosening the tongues of questioned German captives who fear execution if they do not speak freely.

American prisoners in Germany, on the other hand, are as close-mouthed as possible and give no desired information. This appears from the official report of a German examining officer which fell into the hands of our army. This document indicates great discretion on the part of captured American officers and men who seem to manage to convey the impression that they know practically nothing of Pershing's plans. While complaining of this ignorance, the examining officer's report speaks of the "alert and pleasing appearance" of the American prisoners, admits their soldierly qualities and says that the members of the second American division "at present lack only necessary training to make them redoubtable opponents."

Kentucky's most famous editor, the dean of Bluesgrass journalists is about to lay down the quill according to reports from Louisville that the Haldeman squabble has been closed by Judge Bingham taking over the interests of General Haldeman and Henry Watterson in the Courier-Journal and Times. Marso Henry's editorials gave the Courier-Journal a nationwide reputation and we predict that although he may retire from business, he will continue to push the quill until he is called to the place where all good editors go.

The draft calls are now being felt in Maysville and Mason county. Over one thousand Mason county men are now wearing khaki and they are all giving good accounts of themselves. Some idea of the low death rate in the present conflict can be obtained when it is remembered that while there are more than a thousand Masonians in the fight but three have been called upon to make the supreme sacrifice.

Few cities have a greater nuisance than Maysville in the colored girl known as "Topsy". It seems as though the law is not far reaching enough to cover her case for despite her frequent trips to Police Court she continues to insult the public and discredit her race. A good dose of old-fashioned strap oil applied by our policemen has been suggested and might have the desired effect.

Inability to secure a Superintendent for the Water Works is no excuse for serving the city impure water. The water should be properly treated and the County Health Officer should follow the instructions of the last Grand Jury by seeing that the purification plant is at all times kept in operation.

The many compliments bestowed upon us by kind friends recently are greatly appreciated. We shall endeavor to give you each day a faithful chronicle of the events of the community and we urge our good friends to assist us by furnishing us with any news they may know.

The bringing of a new wharf boat to Maysville appears on the face of it to be a mere case of "freeze out" and looks like the establishing of a monopoly. The city officials are doing the proper thing by making a thorough investigation before granting a license.

A correspondent declares that this war can not be won without sugar and others are equally convinced of the necessity of tobacco, yet up to a few centuries ago every war was lost or won without either, for neither was in use.

FIND GASOLINE POURED IN FIRE EXTINGUISHERS

Wide Destruction Scheme by the Germans in the United States Is Unearthed By U. S. Major.

Wilmington, Del. — Warnings against a new diabolical scheme for the destruction of property are being sent broadcast throughout the United States by Major Richard Sylvester, former superintendent of policies in Washington, D. C., and now head of the protection department of the Du Pont Powder company.

Discovery has been made that hand fire extinguishers, which are part of the fire-fighting equipment of thousands of factories, stores, offices, and even private dwellings, have been filled with gasoline, so that instead of extinguishing incipient flames the liquid feeds the flames and makes certain the destruction of property.

Major Sylvester was called in recently by an outside concern to assist in the investigation of a mysterious fire in a large manufacturing plant. He soon made the discovery that two of the extinguishers on which dependence had been placed had been tampered with in this manner.

The result of this act in the particular instance under investigation was that when a small fire started and a workman attempted to extinguish the flames, he found that the use of the extinguisher only increased them. Further investigation brought out the fact that other extinguishers in this plant had been filled with gasoline.

The far-reaching possibilities of this scheme for destruction of property were so apparent that Major Sylvester at once sent out orders to all of the Du Pont plants to investigate the contents of their extinguishers and to guard against the possibility of tampering with them in the future.

He decided to make public his discovery so that every user of extinguishers may be put on guard.

CHOOSING ROAD MATERIALS

There are many inalienable rights of the individual with which neither friends nor enemies have any call to interfere. He may wed a wife with the brains of a dead haddock and we cannot say nay, nor may we use more than verbal advice to prevent early demise by eating "slip-on" that famous food of lower New York, consisting of a foundation of hot mince pie and a wearing surface of sizzling Welsh rarebit. But when he takes advantage of the right he possesses in many places to select the kind of pavement laid in front of his property everybody has justification for raising strong objection: The road is for the public use, and even when a considerable part of its improvement is paid by local assessment the community contributes the remainder of the cost and therefore should have a voice in determining its nature. The average taxpayer is not a road expert; the ability to drive an automobile over a slippery pavement without skidding does not make him one, although it may make him a helpful critic. It takes years of study and experience to develop a road expert. He must know not only the method of constructing types of roads under different conditions, but also the economical advantages of all these different types. Sooner or later he will be employed on every important road undertaking and the beginning of his service should be at the outset of the work, so his knowledge may be the guide for the selection of the type of construction. To wait until the contract is let, is to throw away a very large part of the help he can give. No engineer can be held responsible for the behavior of roads unless all the steps that must be taken originating and carrying on the construction have his approval.

FARMERS IN THE BLUEGRASS MAY LOSE GRAIN

Bluegrass Millers Use Their Convenience in Taking Grain to Grind, and Wheat May Be Lost.

Lexington, Ky. — Unless the flour mills in Kentucky are ordered by the Food Administrator to accept early delivery of wheat grown in this state, there will be heavy wastage, because the farmers, unused to raising such crops as they have harvested this year, are not prepared to properly store the grain.

The millers are not taking the wheat now for the reason that, under the Government's regulations, they may buy it as they need it at the one price and without suffering loss, however small that loss may be, due to shrinkage as the wheat dries. The millers are taking wheat only as they grind it, though there may here and there be an exception to the rule.

The farmers, as a rule, are being compelled to put their wheat in sacks rented from grain dealers and millers, and they are housing it in such barns and other buildings, usually wooden structures, as they have. These buildings are not fire proof, neither are they rat proof. The farmer is put to a further liability from theft of that portion of the crop which is in the least secure of the buildings ordinarily not used for grain storage.

There is in Lexington a large concrete grain elevator, privately owned and not the property of a mill, which is capable of storage of many thousands of bushels of wheat, but it is practically empty, because the owners do not now, under the Government plan of cutting out the middleman, find profit in handling wheat.

DEATH ENDS REVEL IN MANIAC'S HAREM

"Blue Blood" Proves Worship of High Lineage Precarious Practice.

The surest sign of a man's mental dissolution, psychologists tell us, is flung out when he indulges in magnificent dissipation. Nero had his hanging gardens, Louis XVI had his Versailles with its love courts, and countless other rulers and men of power have had their pavilions, their pleasure palaces and their retreats, secret and otherwise.

Decadent modern millionaires have their "studios" and mountain lodges, concealed until some tragedy reveals their existence to the public. In view of this it is only natural that the authors of "Blue Blood", a Select drama starring Howard Hickman, should have devised a life form of indulgence for the principal character in their play. He is Suenner Wellington, the last of a long line of supposedly aristocratic ancestors, who marries a girl of fortune without telling her of the taint of madness in his blood.

In a secluded part of his estate there is erected a building of marble and gilt. Inside all the luxury of the Orient is recreated for the jaded young man, including a veritable harem of girls. The end of his orgies occurs in a mad revel, the like of which is never seen in public, preceding the death of pitiable wreck of manhood. Wellington's folly is said to have been inspired by the life of a California profligate whose exploits are known everywhere. The play comes to the Gem and Washington Theaters on Thursday.

A phonograph attachment makes a new clock speak the time every quarter hour.

DOUBT DISAPPEARS

No One in Maysville Who Has a Bad Back Should Ignore This Double Proof.

Does your back ever ache? Have you suspected your kidneys? Backache is sometimes kidney ache. With it may come dizzy spells, Sleepless nights, tired, dull days, Distressing urinary disorders. Doan's Kidney Pills have been endorsed by thousands.

Are recommended here at home. You have read Maysville proof. Read now the Maysville sequel. Renewed testimony, tested by time. Mrs. John Burns, West Second Street, says: "I was subject to severe spells of backache and other kidney trouble. They would come on every three or six months and there were times when I was confined to bed and rendered helpless. The quick and decided benefit I received from Doan's Kidney Pills was wonderful. I have never had such severe attacks since." (Statement given February 13, 1914.)

NO TROUBLE SINCE
On November 15, 1916, Mrs. Burns said: "I have the same good words of praise for Doan's Kidney Pills to-day, as ever. I have not needed a kidney medicine since I took them." Mrs. Burns is only one of many Maysville people who have gratefully endorsed Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches—if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—ask distinctly for DOAN'S KIDNEY PILLS, the same that Mrs. Burns had—the remedy backed by home testimony. 60 cents at all stores. NEW SUGAR ORDERS ARE ANNOUNCED

County Food Administrator W. D. Cochran Issues New Orders on Sugar For Canning and Immediate Consumption.

The following has been received from Fred M. Sackett, Federal Food Administrator for Kentucky:

A telegram from Washington gives the quantities which can be issued to all classes A, B, C, D and E, materially reducing the allowance for August under July.

The allotment for the State has been reduced materially for August, and in addition there is not the sugar in the hands of the retailers on the first of August that there was on the first of July. Great economy will be necessary.

The ration for households for August will be two pounds per month per person. The ration for public eating places will be two pounds for every 90 meals served.

It will be necessary for retailers to adopt the following program:

A book or card system must be kept in which is registered the name of the head of the household buying sugar, the number of persons in the family, the allotment for the month at two pounds per head, the dates during the month on which the purchases were made, and the total at the end of the month, supplied to the family must not exceed the allotment. The book must be kept alphabetically arranged, and the purchases of each family kept on the page or the card reserved for the family, so that the Inspector can see it at any time without hunting through the book to find the purchases. The better plan is a small card system which can be kept in a box, and each purchase entered on the purchasers card, and the cards kept in alphabetical order.

We will send a letter to each retailer with his August certificates. A copy is enclosed. In that letter we suggest the retailer confine his sugar sales to his regular trade. If they do that when every family will have a certain store at which he buys his sugar and the practice of people getting excess sugar by buying at several stores will be stopped. We will send a letter to each retailer who, by reason of the amount he had on hand first of July, is not entitled to any August certificates, explaining the reason why.

A number of retailers have called this office to know why their certificates have not been forwarded, and in many instances we have never received their statement E, and is the reason they have not heard from the Sugar Division.

Canning and Preserving Sugar.
Administrators must hold certificates issued for canning and preserving sugar to the lowest practical limit. No family is to receive more than 25 pounds in the aggregate for canning and preserving. In many counties certificates have only been issued for ten pounds. Washington advises that fruit be preserved, at present, by boiling, and that sugar be added later when it is more plentiful. All acid fruits can be bottled without sugar; so can fruit juices by sterilizing with boiling water increasing the time of cooking about double. All canning certificates issued by you to retailers should be returned by the retailers to you, and by you forwarded to this office, giving you an opportunity to investigate whether there are duplicates. You should instruct your deputies to be careful in regard to this.

You should limit the territory in which your deputies can issue canning certificates and permit them only to issue to residents of their district. We have found where deputies have issued to one person and he has gone to another deputy and received another allowance from the second deputy. This must be stopped, in the interest of conservation. No certificates for canning must be issued to any person not a resident of your county.

These new restrictions are due to an excessive shortage at the present time. Fifty million pounds were sunk by the submarines operating on the east coast recently. Many manufacturers of beet sugar in France have been captured by the Germans in the recent drives, and sugar must be sent to sustain the armies, and the American people must save it. Appeal to their patriotism and ask assistance for the common need.

FRED M. SACKETT,
Federal Food Administrator for Kentucky.

Under this ruling all retailers will return their canning and preserving certificates to me.

Under this new ruling no family is entitled to receive more than twenty-five (25) pounds in the aggregate for canning and preserving, and no certificates will be issued by any Deputy Food Administrator to any family who has heretofore received 25 pounds of sugar. The Deputies are to ascertain the amount each family has received by asking the question

STORY OF THE DECORATING OF MASON MARINE

Official Account of Decoration Ceremonies When Hugh E. Bolander, of Murphysville, this county, and his comrades were decorated follows:

“Within the sound and range of the German guns, hidden by the sheltering trees of a dense forest, amid a heavy morning mist and a drizzling rain. French veterans of Verdun, the Marne, the Alsne and the Somme honored their younger comrades of America by conferring upon them the Croix de Guerre. Thirty Marines, including five officers and twenty-five non-commissioned officers and men, were awarded this coveted French decoration for gallant conduct, courage and coolness in action against the enemy during the occupation of a sector by the Marine brigade.

Eleven Present

“Of the total number who were cited in French orders for this decoration, only eleven were present. Three, Gunner Sergeant Edward G. Warren, Corporal John L. Kuhn and Private Edward C. Gehlert, were killed in action; sixteen were wounded and in the hospital. The crosses for those wounded were presented to them in the field hospital. A number of French soldiers were decorated at the same time and, as is the custom, half a company from each of the companies whose men were honored were present and drawn up so as to form a square and the presentation of the decorations took place within this human enclosure. The Marines and poilu, side by side, presented a picture symbolical of the close bond existing between America and France in this conflict and particularly so of the manner in which Marines have worked and fought with the French soldiers during the period of their instruction in the adjacent sector. The ceremonies differed little from the usual presentation of the French cross, but had a peculiar interest for the Marines for several reasons.

“Censorship regulations prohibit mentioning the names of the officers, consisting of a Major, a First Lieutenant and three Second Lieutenants. The Major received the decoration for having impressed a most wonderful military spirit upon the men of his command. By the judicious disposition of his troops he made it possible for a fraction of his company, violently attacked at night by a strong assaulting detachment, to resist victoriously and to inflict serious losses on the enemy. The four Lieutenants received the decoration for conducting their units with indomitable courage and coolness in a hand-to-hand fight against an enemy superior in number and repulsing him with heavy losses.

Morning Dreary

“The presentation was scheduled for 9 o'clock. The French soldiers and the Marines arrived at the designated place about 8:30, direct from the trenches, where they had been temporarily relieved. The morning was a dreary one; a drizzling rain, falling from a sullen sky, was whirled strikingly against one's face by sudden gusts of wind. A heavy mist hung close to the ground and increased in density, each moment. The spot where the ceremonies were to take place was designated by a company of French soldiers who had arrived earlier.

“From different directions in the woods the other units, French and American, arrived on the scene. The soft carpet of the forest deadened the sound of their footsteps and the men, coming among the trees, enveloped in the shrouds of the heavy mist, presented the illusion of silent, roaming ghosts, mudspattered, tired, fearless and brave heroes of other battles, arriving and gathering for a meeting of the clan. The roar of a heavy gun in the close vicinity, the sharp command of an officer in charge of the latest arrivals, disturbed the silence.

“A French officer arrived, issued some instructions, and suddenly the different units maneuvering in the fog, gathered into some semblance of order and drew up into position. The officer, reading from a list, called out the names of those who were to be decorated, and one by one they stepped out of the ranks, halted wonderingly in add groups until told just where to stand. They were lined up in the proper order when the French Brigade Colonel and his staff arrived.

French General Arrives

“The French Divisional General arrived just a few minutes before 9 o'clock, and was announced by a flourish of trumpets. The American officers arrived about the same time, and among those present was the Major General commanding the division, the Brigade, and the Marine Brigadier General who on the following day was returning to the States. For that reason the ceremonies were of unusual interest to the Marines.

“The French General who pinned the decorations on the breasts of the proud Marines eloquently praised their achievements in a short speech, in which he summarized their deeds of bravery, remarking on the fine state of discipline and efficiency of the brigade, and congratulating its commanding officer upon his excellent organization. He then pinned the little bronze emblems on the men, and shook each one by the hand with a personal word of congratulation.

“The ceremonies over, the officers took their position on the side of the road winding through the forest, and the companies, first the French and then the American, marched by in review to the lively tune of the ‘Marche Lorraine.’ The French, in columns of two, led by a bronzed, wiry veteran mounted on a horse, his saber raised to the position of salute, the wind flapping back his mud-smear overcoat, while the blinking rays of the morning sun endeavored to penetrate the pearly mist, reminding one of a painting by Detaille.

Full of Confidence

“So France marched by, rounding out the fourth year of her gallant fight, a little tired, yet full of confidence; a little discouraged at times, but still holding on with grim determination and gathering new strength, fresh inspiration, from across the sea; fighting hard with the knowledge that it is a good fight.

“And then passed the ones in the uniform of the Marines—young, eager, inspiring, swinging along in the exuberance of youth; proud in the knowledge that they had turned their first page of the book of this war and acquitted themselves as men; proud that their older, more experienced comrades had included them in the circle of those deserving honor. Thus they passed down the road, smiling under the dripping trees, and disappeared in the fog.”

The other noncommissioned officers and men who received the Croix de Guerre with Corp. Bolander and Private Davis are Corp. Wolcott Winchbaugh, of Hyde Park, Mass.; Corp. Thomas Regan, of Orange, N. J.; Corp. Lazard Bailey, New Orleans, La.; Sergt. Louis Cukela, of Minneapolis, Minn.; and Privates Kenneth C. Sands, of Baden, Pa.; Ross J. Turner, of Cloverdale, N. Y.; Alfred G. Beyer, of Ellinger, Tex.; Earl Sleeth, of Grenola, Kan.; Frank H. Hullinger, of Chicago, Ill.; George F. Berry, of Sweetwater, Tenn.; Walter Klamann, of Hammond, Ind.; George C. Brooks, of Rich Hill, Mo.; Henry H. Cameron, of Fort Worth, Tex.; Thomas M. Underwood, of Fairview, W. Va.; Raymond J. Hass, of Homer, Mich.; Joseph C. Maloney, of Jackson, Mich.; Frank E. Goss, of Blairville, Pa.; and Charles W. Milburn, of Los Angeles, Cal. The name of Harry G. Askins is also contained in the list, but this is evidently an error in transcription, as there is no record of such a person at Marine Corps headquarters.

It has been estimated that the wire in the cores and sheathing of the world's submarine cables that have been made since they were first used in 1857 would reach from the earth to the moon.

THUNDER STORM MUSSES THINGS AT RUGGLES

First Sunday at Camp Meeting Is Big Success Despite Terrible Thunder Storm.

(By J. H. R.)

Ruggles Campgrounds, July 27—This has been a beautiful day for camp life. Just hot enough. O, maybe it has been a little too warm in spots, but under the big trees it is just delightful.

Many came in during the day to stay over Sunday. Dr. Aultman, the Sunday preacher, arrived during the afternoon. He was warmly welcomed. He is always sure of a good hearing when he comes to Ruggles.

The services of the day were all good and well attended. Rev. T. L. Stotler of Germantown preached at the morning service. At the young peoples service Rex. Cheap gave another of his picture-sermons. They are being much enjoyed by the young folks. The chorus director, Mr. Dodds, has organized a fine choir of young folks for the afternoon meetings. All over twenty-one ruled out. And it surely good to hear the young voices. They will sing special numbers at each service during the campmeeting. At this afternoon's service a pretty duet was sung by Misses Catherine Pollitt and Juanita Richardson. Another special feature of the afternoon meetings are the whistling selections by Miss McClellan, the accompanist. She is truly a wonder. It is no wonder that her playing and whistling has made her popular wherever she has appeared. Every one who can get to Ruggles this year should surely make it a point to hear her in some of her selections.

Rev. L. C. Godbey preached at the evening service. Mr. J. C. Simons, Policeman William Tolle, Robert Rosser and Mr. Clint Rains were some of the Maysvillians who came out to stay over Sunday.

The tennis enthusiasts got busy today borrowing enough hoes from a nearby store to scrape the court of all weeds and grass, lining it off and otherwise getting it in trim. During the afternoon tennis was in full blast. Quits are still popular. Carr Pollitt has been in several winning games, and says he is getting his “batting eye” all O. K.

Several of the campers enjoyed a trip to Kirk Springs during the afternoon. It is a most delightful trip just at this time.

Ruggles Campgrounds, July 28—The first Sunday of the campmeeting is nearing a close. The attendance during the morning was rather small. About noon the skies were threatening and it appeared as if a hard storm would strike the camp. But it all passed away without any rain, but leaving the air much more pleasant. During the afternoon the people came in large numbers until the attendance will compare favorably with past first Sundays.

The services have been great. Dr. Aultman preached with all his old time vigor. His morning sermon was as good as any ever heard at Ruggles. He preached from the text, “There Was No Room for Him in the Inn.” We wish it were possible to give an outline of this great sermon. Suffice it to say that he was given the best of attention by the large audience. The good impressions made were plainly visible through the faces of hearers. We can hardly see how anyone could hear such a sermon without being made better. At this service Mrs. Carl Dodds sang one of her most effective solos.

At the afternoon service the largest audience of the campmeeting thus far was present. The choir of young folks was almost to the overflow point. Their singing was truly inspirational. Miss Helen Foxworthy sang very sweetly the song “He Knows the Way.” Miss McClellan gave two whistling selections the “Mocking Bird,” and “Jesus Savior Pilot Me.” The male chorus sang by request “The Little Brown Church in the Vale.” Prof. Frizzell of Vanceburg assisted with a violin. The Rev. Cheap gave another of his excellent sermons, adapted especially for the young folks.

At the evening service Dr. Aultman again preached. We know we voice the feeling of all who heard him when we say we wish he could stay a whole week with us. Such sermons would do an immense lot of good. His simple straightforward presentation of the Gospel is such that it just grips the hearts of the folks. Would that we had more such preachers! Carl Dodds delighted all lovers of beautiful sacred music by singing “The Holy City.”

So, for the day the program of services were all that could have been desired. And now we are looking forward to the coming of Dr. Nichols on Tuesday. From all reports of him as an evangelist, we feel that his success here is assured.

Rev. McClure of the Flemingsburg M. E. Church, South, with his little son, came over today to spend a few days with us.

The Rev. Worth Peters and wife of Williamsburg, Ky., arrived Saturday for a stay of several days in camp. They are visiting at the Dr. Irvin cottage.

Messrs. George H. Frank and Giles Rice were among the first Maysville folks to arrive in camp this morning. Mr. Frank tells us that he knows Dr. Don M. Nichols the evangelist who will be with us next week, and that he is sure everybody will be pleased with him. George also said that he and Dr. Nicholas had helped dedicate a church near Maysville a few years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Holton Key and children were visitors in camp today.

The campmeeting is saved! Our old friend Harry Markwell is here. He landed safely this forenoon, and is now ready for service. Harry has been located in Pittsburg for several months, making of himself one of the Smoky City's big business men. It wouldn't seem like campmeeting without Harry Markwell and John Will Hardyman. And now that they are both safe in camp we will all rest easier. And all the girls are glad, too.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Albert Hill and Miss Mattie Austin were out for the day.

Mr. Dale Bryant and family of Maysville, spent the day with relatives and enjoying the campmeeting.

Mr. John R. Brodt, member of the Board of Directors, arrived yesterday. He brings the good word that Rev. F. W. Harrop of Harlan, will be with us Tuesday. This announcement will please his many friends.

Rev. E. R. Overley, District Superintendent of the Covington district is expected to arrive tomorrow and at once assume charge of the young peoples' meetings, also taking charge of the campmeeting for the last half.

A large number of preachers is expected tomorrow. They usually come in after their Sunday appointments. A big week is expected. Those who anticipate coming during the week will surely enjoy the camp.

Latest News From the Camp Sunday Night.

Just as the song service had concluded and Dr. Aultman had gotten a start on his sermon a terrific thunder storm broke over the camp. The rain poured down. It seemed by bucketfuls. Such a scamping for the dry places! For about half an hour the service was suspended. The congregation had to stay in the tabernacle. There was no getting away unless they wanted a good ducking, so most of them stayed. What a glorious rain it was. It was very fitting that the crowd should sing lustily “Showers of Blessing” for just such showers were badly needed in this section. After the rain had subsided Dr. Aultman proceeded with his sermon.

Of course the camp was deluged after such a rain. It was funny to see the folks try to evade the water and mud. Some had their old shoes sent to the tabernacle so that their nice white shoes could be saved. Several of our Maysville girls earned a nickel each in a very cute way. The boys wanted a drink of fresh water and told the girls they would give them that much if they would go to the well for the water. They at once shed their shoes and — and hiked through the mud and water to the well. Such heroism is certainly commendable. Then our faithful old round man “Billy” Sons had a nice job. The rain rained out all the gasoline lights and he had to go all over the camp turning off the gasoline, and in the hardest of the rain at that.

One delightful part of the day's program we must mention before closing. Miss McClellan played at the evening service a patriotic medley, arranged by herself, that was one of the finest things we have ever listened to. Before playing the selection she said that she had played it in many places at Red Cross meetings with great success. A more inspiring rendering of our nation's songs could not be given. It isn't any wonder that Miss McClellan has received so many testimonials from Chautauqua and lyceum people. She is as good as has been heard at Maysville at either chautauqua or lyceum. Come and hear her and see if we are putting it too strong.

KENTUCKY GROCER BREAKS FOOD LAW; IS FINED

Washington—Herbert Hoover's office makes the following announcement: “J. A. Rawls, a wholesale and retail grocer, of Henderson, Ky., has been deprived of his license to deal in foodstuffs for two weeks for violation of Food Administration rules and has made a contribution of $1,000 to the Red Cross in lieu of more severe penalties. The violation consisted of profiteering and failing to keep his books in shape to show accurate transactions.”

KEPT HER AWAKE

The Terrible Pains in Back and Sides. Cardui Gave Relief.

Marksville, La.—Mrs. Alice Johnson, of this place, writes: “For one year I suffered with an awful misery in my back and sides. My left side was hurting me all the time. The misery was something awful.

I could not do anything, not even sleep at night. It kept me awake most of the night. I took different medicines, but nothing did me any good or relieved me until I took Cardui.

I was not able to do any of my work for one year and I got worse all the time, was confined to my bed off and on. I got so bad with my back that when I stooped down I was not able to straighten up again. I decided I would try Cardui. By time I had taken the entire bottle I was feeling pretty good and could straighten up and my pains were nearly all gone.

I shall always praise Cardui. I continued taking it until I was strong and well. If you suffer from pains due to female complaints, Cardui may be just what you need. Thousands of women who once suffered in this way now praise Cardui for their present good health. Give it a trial. NC-133

BIRTHS OF HUN BABIES REDUCED BY TWO MILLION

London—The first three years of war reduced by over 2,000,000 the number of babies that would have been born in Germany had peace prevailed, says a report of the British local government board. Some 40 per cent fewer German babies were born in 1916 than in 1913.

The infant death rate, which rose to an abnormal height for a time after the outbreak of war, appears to have gradually returned to the prewar rate. The food difficulties have not led to an excessive number of babies dying, at least up till the end of 1916. In the towns where the food shortage was most acute the death rate tended to fall.

ANOTHER MAYSVILLE MAN WILL BECOME Y SECRETARY

Prof. H. C. Barnes Left Yesterday For Rock Hill, N. C., to Take Training as a Y. M. C. A. Camp Secretary.

Maysville will give the Y. M. C. A. another Camp Secretary in Professor H. C. Barnes, principal of the Forest Avenue School, who left yesterday afternoon for Rock Hill, N. C., where he will enter a training school to take a special course to fit him for camp work.

Mr. Barnes is especially qualified for this sort of work. His education and his ability to impart knowledge to others make him very desirable an educational secretary among the men in training camps or in billets overseas.

Prof. Barnes has not as yet resigned as principal of the Forest Avenue School for fear that something may develop in his last physical examinations that might disqualify him for the work and in that event he will return to his work here. It is not expected, however, that Mr. Barnes will meet with any difficulty.

LOCAL COLORED MAN IS HONORED

The committee on the organization of the colored people for War Work of the Kentucky Council of Defense, has appointed Mr. E. W. Governor Stanley will address the Conference and it will be one of the most important conferences of colored people held in Kentucky for many years.

Lexington, Ky.—The boys of Kentucky have responded to the emergency call for the increased production of food by more than doubling their membership in the 1918 Boys' Agricultural Club. To date there are enrolled more than 5,000 members under the following projects: Pig Club, Corn Club, Poultry Club, Potato Club, Tomato Club, Dairy Calf Club, Soy Bean Club, Etc.

Governor A. O. Stanley has recently become interested in the progress of the boys' club work and has offered as a prize at the Kentucky State Fair a trio of pure-bred Tamworth pigs to the winner of the pig club contest. Governor Stanley is feeding his pigs according to the directions issued to the Pig Club boys of the state and is highly pleased with the development and growth secured during the brief period he has been following these instructions.

There will be an extended exhibit at the State Fair of all products raised by the Agricultural Club members this fall, including an exhibit of from 50 to 100 pigs and 25 to 50 pens of chickens; also large exhibits of corn, potatoes, soy beans, beef calves, dairy calves, etc., for which the State Fair has provided $1,000 in premiums.

The State Fair Board and the College of Agriculture has provided for the annual farm boys' encampment. The winning boy in the Agricultural Club from each county will be a representative at this camp and will receive his railroad fare, board and lodging free. Provision has also been made for the instruction of these boys while at the State Fair by members of the staff at the College of Agriculture and prominent live stock men over the state. Arrangements have also been made to hold a series of stock-judging contests among the boys, for which prizes will be offered.

O'CONNELL IS HELD FOR THE NEXT GRAND JURY

Mason County Man Charged With Seditious Utterances Will Go Before Federal Grand Jury at Covington Next Monday.

William O'Connell, Mason county man arrested last week on a charge of making seditious statements, was given an examination before Mrs. M. V. Bell, United States Commissioner, at her office in Covington yesterday morning and was held to the Federal Grand Jury under five hundred dollar bond. The bond was promptly given and O'Connell returned here yesterday afternoon.

The next Federal Grand Jury will meet in Covington on next Monday when Mr. O'Connell will again be compelled to appear in Covington.

Yesterday afternoon O'Connell again insisted, as he did when first arrested, that he was only jesting with a man he thought was an old time friend but the man supposed to be a friend proved to be a stranger and this stranger reported the alleged statements of O'Connell to Federal authorities. O'Connell says he was drinking at the time but that his statements were only in jest. He contends that he is patriotic and loyal as all our good citizens.

The seriousness of O'Connell's alleged offense is said to lie in the fact that he was discouraging a young man who was joining the United States army.

O'Connell says he believes that when the Federal Jury hears and understands his case they will release him.

THE CONCRETE MAY REACH MAYSVILLE TODAY

First Concrete Boat on the Ohio River Which Has Had Many Mishaps Now Has Good Water—No Definite Word Received.

The concrete launch "Concrete" which was due to arrive in Maysville Sunday evening but which was held up at up-river points because of low water and several little mishaps, left Huntington yesterday morning and as the rains in the up-stream district will raise the river considerably, it is expected she will now move along in good time and she may be able to reach this place some time late today.

Many people were on the river bank Sunday evening to meet the boat and were somewhat disappointed but it is expected that as soon as she arrives in port the word will be passed around and there will gather quite a good sized crowd to see her and to see her camouflage.

Nothing definite has been heard from the craft since she left Huntington yesterday but it is expected that Mayor Russell will receive a telephone message from the skipper when she reaches Manchester and the word will then be passed around.

BOATS LEAVE FOR UP-RIVER POINTS

The tow boats Enterprise and Eugene Dana Smith, which have been laying in the local harbor for the past several days awaiting higher water so that they may get through the chutes at Dam No. 33, pulled out yesterday following a slight rise caused by the running out of the creeks in this neighborhood. They expected to meet higher water in a short distance caused by the recent heavy rains in the up-river district.

OHIO RIVER GIVEN SLIGHT BY McADOO

Appropriation Recommended For Barges on the Ohio Is Diverted to Alabama Stream.

Washington, D. C.—Declaring that there is every indication that the South is in the saddle and that there is gross discrimination against the North in the allotment of funds to provide barges and other means of water transportation of freight, Senator James E. Watson, of Indiana, is preparing to introduce a resolution of inquiry calling on Director General of Railroads McAdoo to inform Congress why $8,000,000 has been allotted for barges on the Mississippi River and the Warrior River in Alabama, and not one cent for barges on the Ohio River. Senator Watson also will make a speech in the Senate on the subject.

Senator Watson's office Sunday made public the following letter written by the Senator to Arthur F. Funkhouser, of Evansville, Ind.

"I had definite information from Judge Prouty, of the Railroad Administrative Board, that he had recommended the expenditure of $8,000,000 for construction of barges for the Ohio and Mississippi Rivers. The recommendation was made to Director General McAdoo. It appears, however, that the latter gentleman has accepted only that portion of the recommendation relating to the Mississippi River and has appointed one M. J. Saunders, of New Orleans, as Federal Manager of this new enterprise. Inclosed is a copy of Secretary McAdoo's order on the subject. You will note that he places Mr. Saunders in charge also of the Alabama coal fields and permits the use of these barges on the Warrior River.

"Secretary McAdoo seems to have ignored the Ohio River and the coal fields of Kentucky. I wish you would give this information to Charles Harmetz and other business men of Evansville, who are interested in the utilization of the Ohio River for transportation purposes."

PREPARING FOR ASSOCIATION MEETING

The messengers from the local Baptist Church to the annual meeting of the Bracken Association of Baptists will be chosen this week and the annual report of church activities will be prepared. The annual meeting of the Baptists this year will be held with the Lewisburg Baptist Church in this county.

PREPARING FOR LAST SUNDAY

Many local people who have not been camping at Ruggles Campgrounds this year, are planning to attend next Sunday—the last Sunday, which is always the biggest day of the camping period. In the past contracts for lively rigs were made for two weeks in advance for the last Sunday of camping but in these days the automobile has taken the place of the horse and buggy. Every available auto taxi, however, will be rented for this day.

PRIMARY ELECTION TO BE HELD SATURDAY

Very Little Interest Is Being Manifested in the Primary Election to Be Held in This State on Next Saturday—James and Bethuram Seem Favorites Here.

The state primary election is to be held on next Saturday and each of the two great parties will select a candidate for United States Senator.

There has not been a primary election held in Kentucky in many years past in which there is so little interest as there is in the approaching election. In this district especially is this true. Few Democrats know that there is an election to be held and the same is true of the Republicans. It appears now that the lightest vote will be polled that has been polled in Kentucky in many a year.

Only a few people will talk about the primary at all. Everyone seems so very much interested in the great advances being made by the allies in France that they have no time for politics. Those few Democrats who talk at all seem to have but one idea about the primary, however, and that is that Senator Ollie James, now confined to Johns Hopkins hospital, will defeat his opponent, William Preston Kimball, of Lexington, by a great majority.

The Republicans of this section seem to favor B. J. Bethuram, of Somerset, as against Ben E. Bruner, of Louisville, and it seems certain that James and Bethuram will be the candidates in the November election.

In the special registration held last Saturday only twelve registered. Eight of this number were Democrats and three Republicans.

RAISING FUND FOR REPRESENTATIVE CHURCH

Mr. W. W. Ball, Lay Leader of the M. E. Church, South, in This State Is Now Raising Large Fund For Washington Church.

Mr. W. W. Ball, of this city, is spending much of his time just now in traveling over the state in the interest of a fund being raised by the Methodist Episcopal Church, South, for their apportionment to the debt on a representative church constructed in Washington City.

At the annual Kentucky Conference the Methodists of the state of Kentucky pledged three thousand dollars to this fund. Mr. Ball, who is lay leader of the Kentucky Conference, was appointed to present this cause to the churches of the state and he is now engaged in this work.

Mr. Ball has already visited many of the churches in Central Kentucky and reports much success so far.
